CONF CALL BINGO!

THE OFFENDERS

The Silhouette

Probably the most common beast in the pack, this one likes to sit in front of a bright window so that they end up looking like an informant in a crime documentary.

Camera Off

Who knows what's happening with this one. They may be crocheting a tea-cosy out of human hair. Or they might be hiding the fact they live in a shrine to Donny Osmond.

Stuck On Filter

This one was letting the nephews play with their camera settings over the weekend and now can't work out how to remove the fun filter they switched on.

Weird Angle

What better way of showing you couldn't give a st about the call you're on than not even bothering to straighten up your webcam?

Too Close!

Maybe they're simply trying to get closer to the laptop speakers but this one is invading my comfort zone. I've just pushed my laptop away a few inches to compensate.

CONF CALL BINGO!

THE OFFENDERS

The Pixelator

I don't know if they've broken their settings, got a bad internet connection or they're using a webcam passed down from their grandfather - but they look awful.

You're On Mute!

It happens to us all at some point. But this person just keeps trying to speak while on mute. And then takes an age to work out how to click the unmute button.

Untidy Room

Let me introduce you to the slob. They don't bother what their background looks like. And it looks terrible. One day they'll be in a documentary about hoarders.

The Distracted

This call clearly isn't a priority for them. Are they swiping on Tinder matches on their phone? And reading emails? Hello? Can you hear us? Or have you muted us?

The Sleeper

They haven't moved for several minutes. I thought their camera was frozen until I saw something move in the background. I'm sure they're asleep. Or maybe worse.

CONF CALL BINGO!

THE OFFENDERS

The Bad Framer

Why can we only see the top of their head? Are they just tentacles from the nose down? Do they even realise they're cut off? Would they care if they did?

House Fire

It looks like there's something more pressing going on in this person's life. Should we call emergency services? Does anyone know their address?

Kid Invasion!

Whether it's human kids or fur babies, these dependents know no boundaries. Don't they realise their little interruption is costing the company money? Go away!

Up Nose View

Looming over a laptop camera does not give a flattering view. In fact, it's showing us you might need to spend some time with a Kleenex. Ugh!

Bad Green Screen

Fake backgrounds and that horrible blurry effect are a nice idea for some. But without a green screen, you keep losing your ears and fingers. Get it together!
